Announcement About the 2020 FPMA Summer Conference

Dear Colleagues,

We are, indeed, living in extraordinary times. FPMA has been working diligently to provide all our members with information and assistance throughout this trying period. Please check the FPMA (www.fpma.com) and APMA (www.apma.org) websites regularly for updates.

We have thoroughly evaluated our options for the FPMA 2020 Summer Conference in Bonita Springs. At this time, the hotel cannot guarantee a full-service venue and we are still limited in the number of people who can safely attend. Therefore, we have determined that the best option is to cancel this year's Summer Conference.

We are continuing to evaluate the possibility of a one-day meeting to provide a podiatric X-ray assistant track and possibly a few CECH courses for physicians. This is not definite, and the location and date remain to be determined.

We are also exploring a more robust online learning platform. We envision this to include both CECH and non-CECH lectures, staff training, (possibly) podiatric X-ray assistant training, and any other content our members may recommend. PLEASE reach out to FPMA with any suggestions pertaining to online learning content you would like to see.

Be sure to mark your calendars now for the following live seminar opportunities in Florida:
